Register

The AISNSW Early Career Experience is designed to support new educators in their early years of practice. The professional learning takes place over two years, during which participants explore fundamental aspects of what it means to be a teacher while building networks and knowledge.

This bespoke course provides a range of supports to new educators with their needs in mind. Participants work with AISNSW consultants to co-design their learning across a range of key focus areas including wellbeing, behaviour management, differentiation, diversity and use of assessment evidence and data.
