

Suicide Postvention Response and Recovery during the coronavirus pandemic

Be You is here to support educators through the coronavirus pandemic and the many challenges they may face as a result. As part of the Be You initiative, our Consultants are continuing to provide Suicide Postvention response and recovery consultancy to schools. Your Be You Consultant can assist you to prepare for, respond to and recover from the impact of a suicide on your school.

Be You Consultants:

- Provide Suicide Postvention support, including planning sessions, for schools via the telephone or video conferencing.
- Help schools adapt the Be You Suicide Postvention Toolkit to their unique setting and current environment, including adapting the scripts and actions as required.
- Use best practice evidence to support schools to manage risk and contain exposure.
- Provide guidance to adapt Suicide Postvention Planning actions.
- Support school leaders to plan online briefings for staff.
- Provide advice on what support and resources can be shared with families to help them care for young people in the home environment.
- Connect schools with other organisations that may be involved in providing support following a suicide.
- Discuss the Be You website resources on preventing suicide in a learning community.

Contact your relevant State or Territory Manager to discuss Suicide Postvention Response support:

Be You Primary and Secondary
Location	Manager	Email	Phone
NSW/ACT	Rachel Jewell	rjewell@headspace.org.au	0475 838 049
NT/QLD	Georgina Livingstone	glivingstone@headspace.org.au	0455 079 803
SA	Robyn Cane	rcane@headspace.org.au	0448 381 280
TAS	Jessica Morgan	jmorgan@headspace.org.au	0448 613 934
VIC	Hannah Jamieson	hjamieson@headspace.org.au	0427 518 563
WA	Rena Duncan	rduncan@headspace.org.au	0427 128 271

For more information on Be You please visit beyou.edu.au/