

Independent schools operate autonomously and are not members of government or Catholic systems. All independent schools in NSW are registered by the Board of Studies, Teaching and Educational Standards (BOSTES) and are educationally and financially accountable to their Boards and to the Australian and NSW Governments.

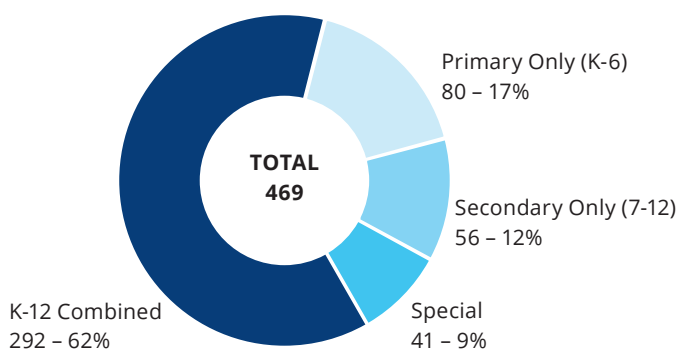

NSW Enrolments by Sector

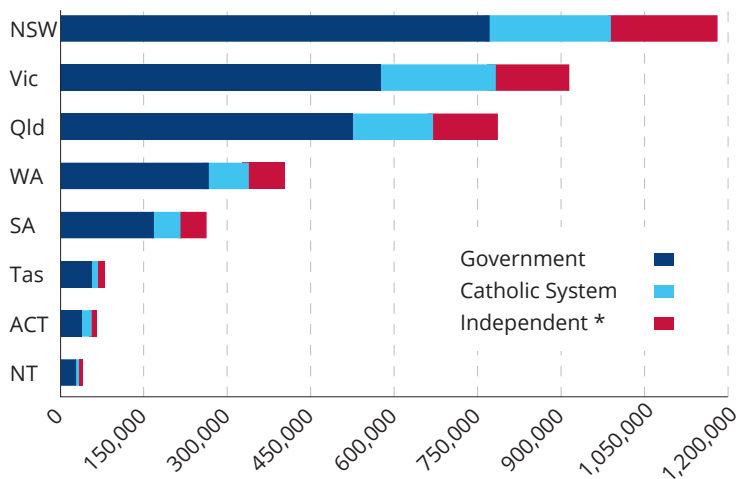

NSW Schools by Sector

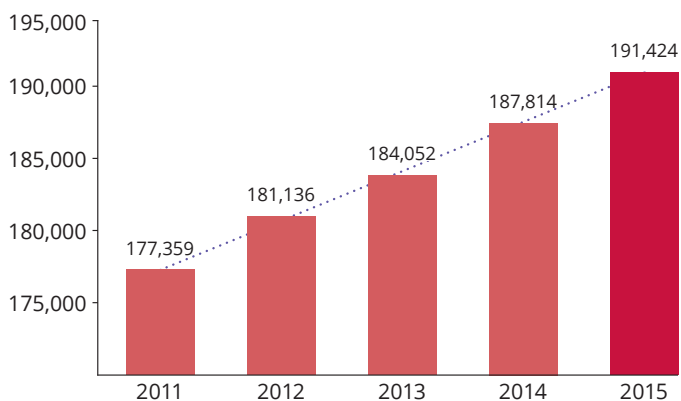

Number of NSW Independent Schools by Level

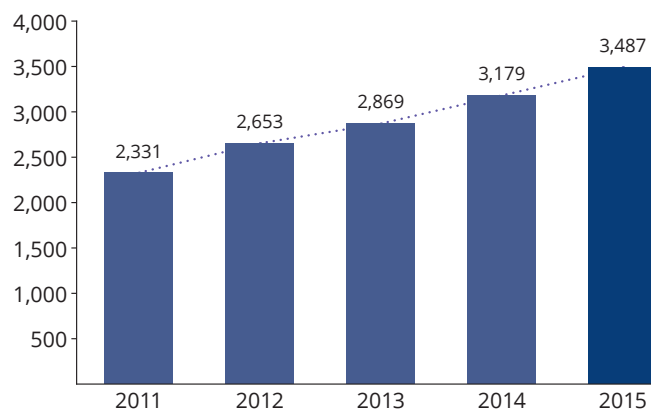

Enrolments by State and Sector

Enrolments - 5 Year Trend

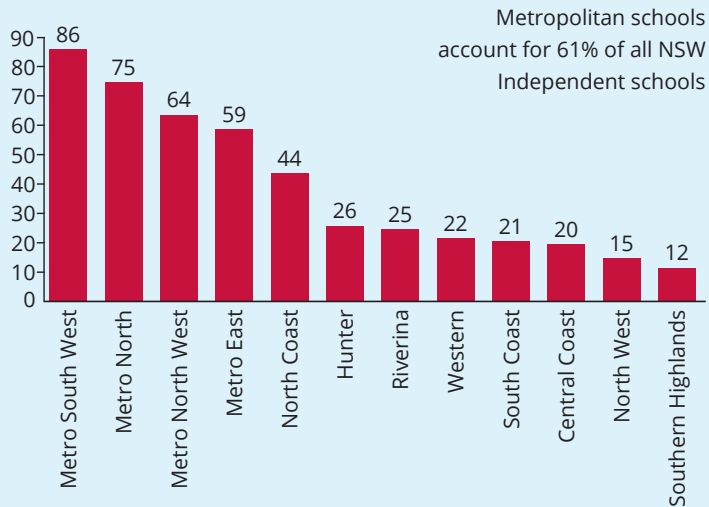

Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Enrolments - 5 Year Trend

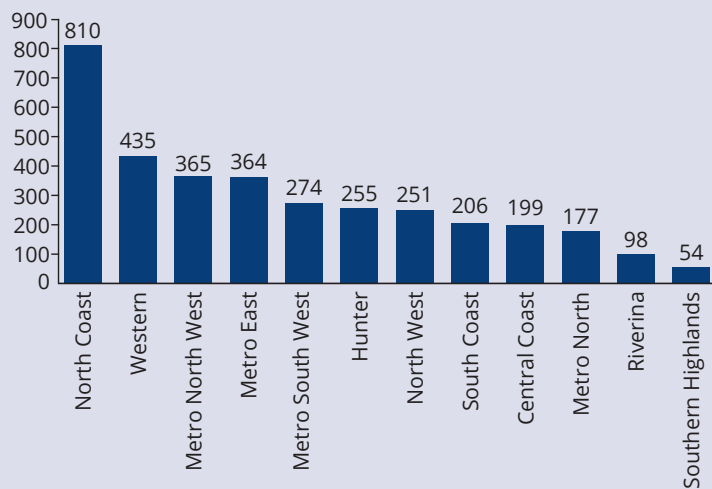

Sources: Data provided by the Australian Bureau of Statistics, the Australian Government Department of Education and Training, and the Productivity Commission. Depending on the availability of data, enrolment figures are either full-time or full-time equivalent (FTE).

* Independent Catholic school figures are included as independent. Some figures may not add due to rounding.

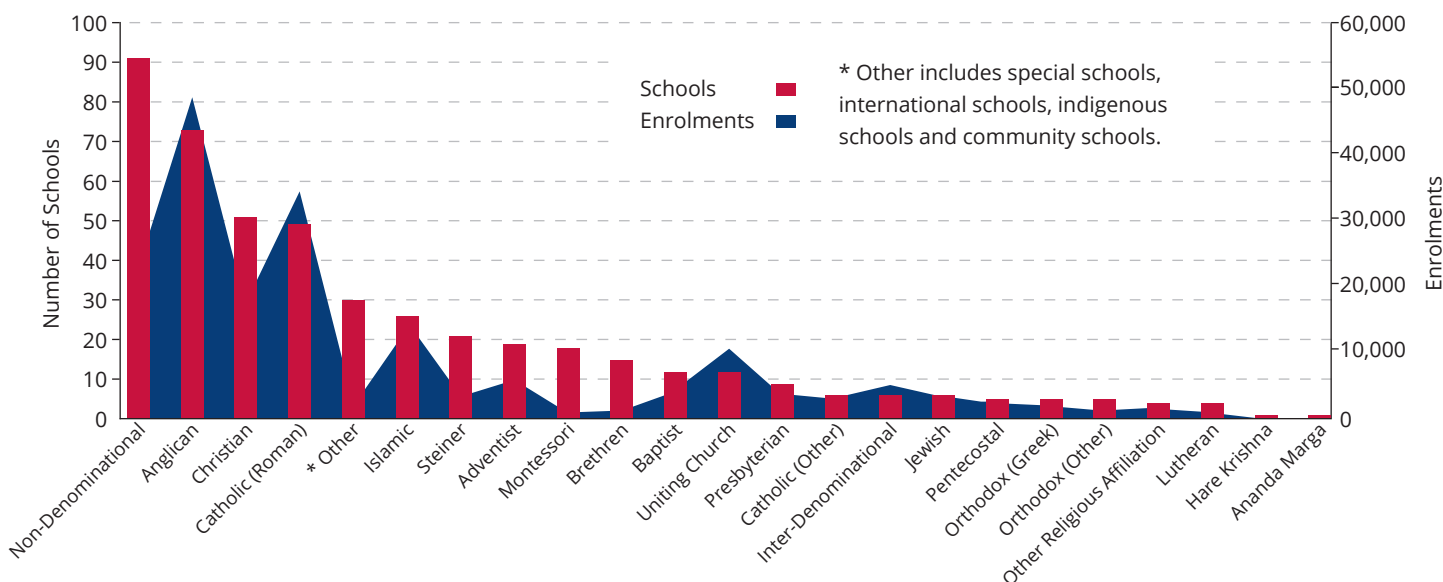

NSW Independent Schools by Regional Location

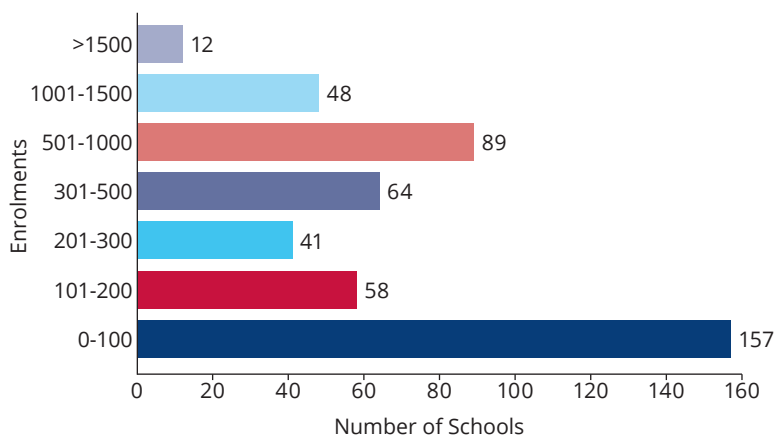

Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Enrolments by Regional Location

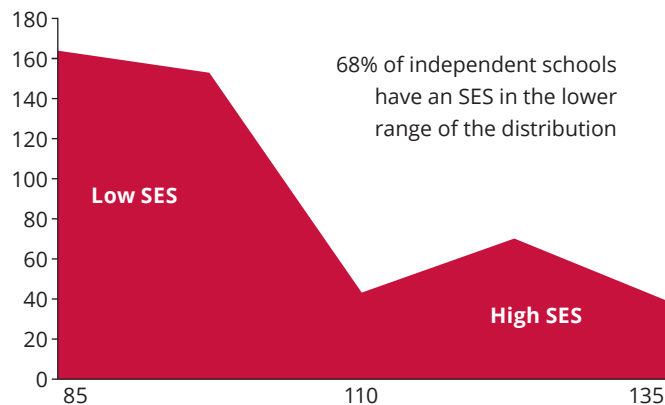

NSW Independent Schools Affiliation – Schools and Enrolments

Number of Independent Schools by Enrolments

NSW Independent Schools by SES

Socio-economic status (SES) is calculated by the Australian Government Department of Education and Training and used for school funding. Schools with low SES receive more funding per student than those with higher SES. SES scores have been grouped for the purposes of this publication only. Individual school SES scores are available at www.education.gov.au